The Happiness Paradox:
The Very Things We Thought Would Bring Us Joy Actually Steal It Away.
Richard Eyre

New York Times #1 Bestselling author Richard Eyre contends that the three things today's society desires the most, control, ownership, and independence, are, paradoxically, the three things that bring the most challenges and unhappiness in our lives.

Second Nature: How Parents Can Use Neuroscience to Help Kids Develop Empathy, Creativity, and Self-Control

Erin Clabough

To really thrive as adults, Dr. Clabough says, children need to learn three essential and interconnected skills: empathy, creativity, and self-control. The lack of even one of these, she explains, underlies nearly all of the problems that parents and children face. The good news is that these strengths can be learned. This groundbreaking and practical guide teaches us how to help children of any age to develop these gifts as second-nature habits, supporting lifelong independence, success, and happiness.

Eat Less: Stop Overeating. Start Undereating.

Jeremy Jackson-Sytner, Georgina Jackson-Sytner

Eat Less is a revolutionary book designed to help people lose weight, fight obesity and maintain a healthy weight for life.

Eat Less is NOT a diet book. It doesn't read like a diet book or look like a diet book. Eat Less is an anti-obesity manifesto, stuffed with bite-sized nuggets of information on the benefits of eating less, advice on what to eat less of, and more.

Informative and motivational, it offers practical advice on the life-changing benefits that simply eating less food can bring...and it really works.

The 7-Mile Talk: On the Road to Emmaus

Graham Lacey

Luke 24—and its 53 verses—focuses on one unforgettable journey. It covers the time period from Jesus' resurrection to His ascension, as well as Jesus' walk with two men and their remarkable discussion. In The 7-Mile Talk, Dr. Graham Lacey breaks down this conversation into "seven miles," each of which digs deep into a selection of verses, examining what each tells us about the importance of the events and how they reveal God's truth to us. By centering on the words shared during one long, memorable walk, Dr. Lacey lets us get to know the desire of Jesus, that each one of us come to His side and open our hearts and homes to Him.

The Restored Man: Becoming a Man of God

Randy Hemphill

The Restored Man is a practical and life-changing resource for men with a sincere desire to change their relationship with God and others.

This process helps explore four key areas of restoration in a man's life:

- Know God as Father
- Know Your Self
- Live in Brokenness
- Walk With God

The results of this process are measurable. Stop trying to change a behavior, and let God buff out the rough edges of the heart. He'll take care of the rest.

The Last of the Stanfields

Marc Levy, Daniel Wasserman

A mystery, a love story, and a search through a shadowy past. Two strangers unite in this novel of family secrets by international bestselling author Marc Levy, the most read contemporary French author in the world.

When London journalist Eleanor-Rigby Donovan receives an anonymous letter alluding to a crime committed by her deceased mother, her life is turned upside down. It points her to a bar on the Baltimore Harbor, where she finds a stranger who has received the same mysterious letter about his own mother. Together, Eleanor-Rigby and this young man, George-Harrison Collins, embark on a quest through the shadowy past of the Stanfields, a moneyed Maryland family full of unimaginable secrets. These secrets will transport them back decades, across continents, and to a mysterious crime long buried...until now.

Beautiful Exiles

Meg Waite Clayton

From New York Times bestselling author Meg Waite Clayton comes a riveting novel based on one of the most volatile and intoxicating real-life love affairs of the twentieth century.

Key West, 1936. Headstrong, accomplished journalist Martha Gellhorn is confident with words but less so with men when she meets disheveled literary titan Ernest Hemingway in a dive bar. Their friendship—forged over writing, talk, and family dinners—flourishes into something undeniable.

Beautiful Exiles is a stirring story of lovers and rivals, of the breathless attraction to power and fame, and of one woman—ahead of her time—claiming her own identity from the wreckage of love.

The Parisians

Marius Gabriel

Paris, 1940. The Nazis have occupied the city—and the Ritz. The opulent old hotel, so loved by Parisians, is now full of swaggering officers, their minions and their mistresses.

For American Olivia Olsen, working as a chambermaid at the hotel means denying her nationality and living a lie, every day bringing the danger of discovery closer. When Hitler's right-hand man moves in and makes her his pet, she sees an opportunity to help the Resistance—and draw closer to Jack, her contact, whose brusque instructions may be a shield for something more...

Within the hotel, famed designer Coco Chanel quickly learns that the new regime could work to her benefit, while Arletty, one of France's best-loved actresses, shocks those around her—and herself—with a forbidden love.

But as the war reaches its terrible end, all three women learn the true price of their proximity to the enemy. For in the shadow of war, is anyone truly safe?

The Drowning: A Novel

J.P. Smith

Every summer camp has a ghost story. For Alex Parson, that story came true—and twenty-one years later, the ghost from that story is back for revenge...

Every summer camp has a ghost story. While Alex is working as a swimming instructor at a rural boys' camp, he hears the tale of John Otis, who is rumored to snatch one boy from the camp every seventh summer. It's a ridiculous story, clearly meant to rile up the campers.

The next day, an eight-year-old boy named Joey Proctor is in Alex's swimming group. Frustrated by Joey's fear of the water, Alex leaves him on a raft in the lake, tells him to swim back on his own, and storms off. Alex returns after nightfall to find the raft empty. Joey is never seen again.

Now, twenty-one years later, Alex is a wealthy Manhattan-based real estate developer with a trophy wife and two young daughters. But someone is after Alex—it seems Joey Proctor is back, and he wants revenge...

Where Secrets Lie

D. S. Butler

Beneath a quiet village, dark crimes lie buried.

When decomposed human remains are discovered in a suitcase behind a locked door in the home of an elderly man, Detective Karen Hart thinks the facts speak for themselves. That is, until she finds the warning: It's time to pay for your crime.

The body belongs to a former teacher, Oliver Fox, who vanished from the village thirty years earlier. Hart's instincts tell her there is something untoward about this rural Lincolnshire community—especially when she uncovers evidence suggesting that, although Fox was a victim, he certainly wasn't innocent. As the extent of Fox's crimes becomes apparent and the web of lies continues to unravel, almost nobody in the village is above suspicion.

Freedom Road

William Lashner

He's taking a dangerous path in search of his missing granddaughter—the only part of his life worth saving.

Oliver Cross is fresh out of jail. His plans for the future are to live out his days in regret, back pain, and a bottle of Lone Star. But when he finds out his granddaughter, a wild child who reminds him of his late wife, has vanished—bless her hell-raising heart—Oliver jumps parole. With a sketchy teen and an abandoned dog, he hits the blacktop to find her.

On the road and on the run from a vengeful Russian drug dealer, Oliver finds himself on a trip across America and into his own past, fueled by fumes from a Ford F-250 and a reason to live. But from an exclusive club in Chicago to a seedy commune in the Rockies, a series of disastrous choices sends Oliver spiraling further from his goal and deeper into danger. It's a journey that could all end in redemption or a hail of bullets. And either's okay by him.

Shadows Across America

Guillermo Valcárce, Kit Maude

A man's search for a missing girl leads him across borders and through a landscape of urban violence in this timely, propulsive, and brilliantly imagined thriller.

Ethan is living a solid, rational life as a bail bondsman in Florida when he's compelled to make a seemingly irrational decision: abandon his job and his girlfriend and head south to rescue the daughter of his ex-lover, Michelle. She appears to have been kidnapped by the Mara—vicious street gangs ripping apart the fabric of Central American life—and there's every reason to believe the girl is dead already. Except for the one that Ethan has been hiding from everyone: she is calling to him in his dreams with three desperate words...I'm still alive.

The Magnolia Inn

Carolyn Brown

New York Times bestselling author Carolyn Brown brings together two wounded hearts in a Texas romance of second chances and twice-in-a-lifetime true love.

Inheriting the Magnolia Inn, a Victorian home nestled in the East Texas pines, is a fantasy come true for Jolene Broussard. After living with the guilt of failing to rescue her self-destructive mother, Jolene knows her aunt and uncle's B&B is the perfect jump start for a new life and a comforting place to call home. There's just one hitch: stubborn and moody carpenter Tucker Malone. He's got a half interest in the Magnolia Inn, and he's planting his dusty cowboy boots squarely in the middle of her dream.

My Kind of Forever

Tracy Brogan

As the youngest mayor Trillium Bay has ever elected, Brooke Callaghan wants to prove she's up to the challenge. She's stepping out of her practical teacher flats and into her sister's treacherously high heels...with disastrous results. But if she's going to (literally) stumble her first day on the job, why not fall into the arms of a handsome stranger?

Leo Walker is a rarity on Wenniway Island. Not only handsome, he's also single, funny, and—most importantly—interested in Brooke.

When a private investigator arrives with news of a jewel thief hiding on the island, Brooke finds herself dealing with one kerfuffle after another, and Leo proves to be a delicious distraction. What does she really know about him, though?
